Can you help me?

I just bought the following item in your store:

Everyone knows that the people who makes our clothes are often not treated with dignity. I only want to buy clothes which are made without labour violations in the factory. Could you therefore tell me:

- What your company does to improve working conditions for the women and men in the factories?
- How do you check if this is actually making things better?
- How do you make sure the people making your clothes get a living wage?
- How do you make sure the workers can fight for their own rights, for example by being able to join an independent union?
- Other:

Can you pass on my questions to your store manager and the brands you are selling?

I would appreciate it if you can also send your answers to: answers@cleanclothes.org

Thanks!
