REPORT OF THE BOARD

History, aims and current programmes

The Schone Kleren Campagne (SKC) or the Clean Clothes Campaign was launched in 1989 when Dutch and British women as well as solidarity groups protested against the dismissal of garment factory workers in the Philippines who were on strike. The women who worked for the supplier of William Baird (GB) and C&A (NL) were sacked after asking that they be paid the statutory minimum wage. In the same year the workers organised picket lines whilst a solidarity campaign was conducted in the Netherlands and in Great Britain. This marked the launch of the ‘Schone Kleding’ or ‘Clean Clothes’ campaign to raise awareness for the demands of southern women’s and workers’ organisations.

Over the years SKC has evolved into a global network recognised internationally as the Clean Clothes Campaign (CCC). This network consists of trade unions, women’s rights and work-related civil society organisations, from both production and consumer countries.

CCC aims to improve the working conditions and position of workers in the global garment industry. The organisation’s ultimate goal is to end suppression, exploitation and abuse of workers - mainly women - in the garment sector. CCC seeks to achieve these objectives as follows:

1. By putting pressure on companies and governments to take responsibility to ensure that the rights of manufacturing workers in global supply chains are respected and implemented
2. Working in solidarity with organised workers in global supply chains fighting for their rights anywhere from the workplace to the global level; and take action on concrete cases of violations of the rights of workers and activists
3. Raising awareness and mobilise people to undertake individual and collective action (linked to consumption, citizenship, work, investment or other areas of life);
4. Exploring judicial mechanisms and lobby for legislation to protect workers’ rights and hold companies accountable;
5. Promoting public and private procurement that ensures workers’ rights are respected in the production process;
6. Working together to develop our own network and strengthen the global alliance for workers’ rights.

Considerable strides have meanwhile been made in raising awareness; consumers nowadays are aware that their clothing is usually produced in low-wage countries and that human rights are likely to have been violated in the process. This concerns the right to freedom of association, a living wage and a safe and healthy workplace, or violation of the child labour ban, forced labour and discrimination. Local human rights activists are regularly unjustly prosecuted, physically assaulted or their right to freedom of speech has been curbed. In collaboration with its partners CCC identifies these violations and subsequently brings these to the attention of business and industry, the government(s) and the wider public. We always provide a perspective for action: all those who buy clothes whether individually or wholesale can contribute to a fairer world.

CCC, being one of the founding members of the Fair Wear Foundation (FWF), holds a seat in the FWF Board and the Committee of Experts.
Highlights of 2018

In 2018, CCC, through further coalition building and agenda setting, helped create a favourable landscape around transparency. The Transparency Pledge coalition, in which CCC works with major trade union federations and human rights NGOs, is instrumental in creating wider acceptance of transparency in the form of individual factory list disclosure as an indispensable part of due diligence. CCC's work in public campaigning and lobbying towards brands and multi-stakeholder initiatives (MSIs), including a strong presence at international forums, has led to more brands, retail discounters and MSIs moving towards more transparent supply chains. In response to our outreach, the Fair Wear Foundation (FWF) announced its updated transparency policy, including an aggregated publication of production locations. We also worked on broadening the civil society support for our proposed minimum standards through a ‘Big Tent’ meeting of NGOs and other stakeholders – leading for example to the alignment of the widely known Fashion Revolution transparency index with our standards.

In collaboration with Dutch and Belgian trade unions and NGOs, CCC supports the implementation of the Freedom of Association Protocol (FoAP). The appointed facilitator to the FoAP National Committee has a mandate to build trust between the stakeholders, monitor worker trainings and establish functioning workplace monitoring committees. Efforts continue for more brands and their suppliers to sign the protocol.

A cornerstone of CCC’s work remained the Urgent Appeal system, and during 2018 we worked – together with network partners – on approximately 20 cases. This worker-led work allows CCC to focus on concrete cases of labour rights violations, and identify and remedy trends of violations, such as shrinking space for activists in countries including Cambodia and Bangladesh, and wage theft after relocation of production. This latter topic was raised forcefully through a public campaign in support of the Jaba Garmindo workers’ demand for severance payments from Japanese brand Uniqlo. When the brand opened a new flagship store in Amsterdarm, the Dutch CCC Secretariat (SKC) organised an action in front of its doors telling Uniqlo to pay the workers what they are owed. While the campaign has not yet convinced Uniqlo to pay up, it has cast a dark shadow on Uniqlo’s public image at a crucial time in the company’s expansion.

CCC joined 35 organisations from around the world (incl. four global unions) in efforts to end the politically motivated prosecution of Cambodian human rights defender Tola Moeun. CCC played a key role in a campaign that included lobbying embassies and reaching out to brands, MSIs and the media. A week after an EU delegation visited Cambodia on a fact-finding mission reconsidering the EBA (Everything But Arms scheme) status of Cambodia in July, legal charges against Tola were dropped.

After a long struggle, unlawfully dismissed union members of the Meridian Garment Industries Limited factory in Cambodia were reinstated and/or received back pay, thanks to cooperation between international labour rights groups (incl. CCC) and brands that sourced from the factory.

Enhancing occupational health and safety was again central for CCC. As a result of relentless campaigning by CCC and its partners, the survivors and families of victims of the Ali Enterprises fire in September 2012 have started receiving life-long pensions. After reaching this milestone, CCC moved to more long-term work pertaining to this tragedy: making the case for social auditor liability and working towards preventive safety. CCC and its partners in Italy, Germany and Pakistan launched an OECD complaint against social auditor RINA, which had certified the factory weeks before the fire. Furthermore, partner organizations in Pakistan took first steps towards reaching sustainable solutions in the field of preventive safety by jointly developing a proposal for a Pakistani programme modelled after the Bangladesh Accord.

2018 was a crucial year for the Bangladesh Accord, with its mandate due to run out. CCC was in the forefront of the campaign (with Bangladeshi, European and US network partners and allies) for the 2018 Transition Accord, which resulted in over 190 brand signatories (from 60 in the beginning of the year), including for the first time home textile brands. The task of convincing brands of the continued need of this programme without a factory incident in fresh memory (which CCC is immensely proud of), was aided by the great deal of media attention for the fifth anniversary of the Rana Plaza collapse. Our network contributed to coverage by over 150 media outlets and highlighted the continued importance of the Accord’s work, as well as the need for a National Employment Injury Insurance Scheme.

SKC invited Kalpona Akter, human rights defender from Bangladesh, for a multi-day program in the Netherlands to talk to Dutch Accord brands, representatives of the ministry of foreign affairs, the media and the public during an event in the Balie about the importance of Accords work for the safety of garment workers.
The work remains on shaky ground, after the Bangladesh High Court ordered a restraining order on the Bangladesh operations of the Accord. After work behind the scenes failed to remove this threat, our partner coalition started an intensive public campaign and lobby work to convince the government of Bangladesh to support the work of the Accord. Thousands of signatures, mounting political and public pressure and considerable media attention have not yet convinced the Bangladeshi government, but might have been of decisive influence in the postponement of a final decision until 2019.

Bangladesh’s long overdue minimum wage review was another focus for CCC in 2019. We supported the struggle of our partners for a unified demand of 16,000 taka, with public support and direct outreach to brands and MSIs to use their leverage in pressuring employers and the government. SKC reached out to the Fair Wear Foundation and the Dutch Agreement on Sustainable Garment and Textile resulting in joint letters to the government of Bangladesh expressing concerns about governments and employers reactions to workers protests and to support an increase of minimum wages for Bangladesh garment workers. Together with the Dutch trade unions FNV and CNV, SKC organised a demonstration in front of the Embassy of Bangladesh in The Hague calling for a halt to the repression of gament workers and unions in Bangladesh.

The outcome of a highly unrepresentative process was an 8,000 taka minimum wage, which is far lower than any credible living wage calculation. Our efforts in relation to the demand for a living wage culminated in the #TurnAroundHM campaign, an attempt to hold H&M to its 2013 promise to pay a living wage to workers in its supply chain within five years. The campaign kicked off with a physical presence at the H&M AGM, and included street actions in at least 30 cities (including Utrecht), research in four countries, and strong online campaigning leading to more than 120,000 petition signatures. It has helped put brand responsibility for wages in their supply chain on the agenda, and signaled our future efforts in this area.

CCC supports the capacity building efforts of 27 Global South organisations in Asia, Europe and Central America. For many of those partners, this support enabled them to increase their staffing and capacity considerably. This has enhanced their capabilities towards building the leadership and organizing skills of factory-level women worker leaders who are seeking to form unions or other worker representative groups, and developing leadership capacity and knowledge of women worker leaders at trade unions and workers’ organizations. Some important results indicated by the Global South partners in 2018 are increased supply chain awareness among women leaders, improved attitudes towards women leaders at the factory level and increased participation of women leaders at strategy meetings and negotiation meetings.

CCC’s lobby and advocacy work included participation in the UN binding treaty process as well as work on EU legislation and an EU Action Plan on Business and Human rights. For this CCC has had a number of meetings with the EU Commission and Parliament, was involved in the development of a shadow EU Action Plan on Business and Human Rights and contributed to a number of parliamentary opinions. Our work around trade has focused on the implementation of the international conventions and standards related to the EU’s Generalised Scheme of Preferences (GSP/GSP+) around increased transparency, accountability and space for civil society.

Active support to coalition building has further strengthened our network structures (regional and global coordinating bodies) and cooperation, and enhanced secure communication and digital security. At the end of 2018, the network consisted of 212 members and partners.

Profile

CCC is a network organisation consisting of a strong international partner network. The network consists of trade unions and civil society organisations (women’s organisations, consumer organisations, research institutes, fair trade organisations, solidarity groups, youth organisations, churches, etc.). Our international partner network comprises civil society organisations, trade unions, individuals and institutes in most countries where garments are produced. CCC also works in association with sister organisations in countries including the United States of America and Canada. This network model was explicitly chosen even though it means that the name CCC will sometimes feature less prominently. Collaboration with organisations that have a considerable constituency after all means a wider reach and greater impact.

The CCC office in Amsterdam consists of three teams: the International Office (CCC-IO), the Dutch Secretariat (SKC) and administrative support (the Bureau).

In 2018 the average number of employees was 16.8 FTEs. In January the headcount was 16.0 FTEs, and in December 16.9 FTEs were employed. In addition a staff member from the Work and Income Department of the municipality of Amsterdam works at the office under a four-day secondment contract.
The International Office (CCC-IO)
- coordinates international activities and campaigns;
- facilitates the development of network strategy and policy;
- facilitates the structure of international campaigns and communication;
- is responsible for publications, makes information accessible to a wide audience and conducts research or commissions an external agency to carry out research;
- provides training to the network.

The Dutch Secretariat (SKC)
The Dutch Secretariat is engaged in raising awareness and activating the Dutch public through activities such as providing information and conducting campaigns. Furthermore SKC actively lobbies among Dutch clothing firms and contributes to seeking constructive solutions for implementing socially responsible choices in their supply chain. SKC also supports workers and their organisations with urgent appeals in which Dutch companies are involved. Lastly, SKC calls for the Dutch government to formulate and implement effective corporate accountability legislation and to ensure that the government itself conducts a responsible procurement policy.

The Bureau
The office provides services to the Dutch Secretariat and the International Office, and is responsible for finance, planning and monitoring planning, quality assurance, administrative duties, human resource policy, ICT, maintaining websites and providing other facilities. The office also serves as the general contact centre for the organisation.

The Board
The SKC/CCC governance principles are set out in the Articles of Association and in further regulations. The organisation has a five-member Board. The Board members do not receive remuneration, a salary or any other form of compensation from the organisation. Board members are entitled to claim reasonable expenses incurred for the performance of their position.

The Board's duties are as follows:
- monitoring the financial situation, and adopting the annual budget and financial and other reports;
- responsibility for human resource policy;
- supervising the performance of the International and Dutch Secretariats and monitoring implementation of the annual plan;
- Supporting the International and Dutch Secretariats in implementing various campaigns.

Composition of the Board
Evert de Boer
Position: chair and responsibility for supporting human resource policy.

Evert de Boer has been working as coordinator of the Philippine Solidarity Group Netherlands since 1987. In the 1980s he was involved in campaigns supporting the garment workers in the Philippines who had opposed the closure and relocation of the factories where they worked. One campaign led to the decision to launch the Clean Clothes Campaign. He was thus one of the founders of the Clean Clothes Campaign in 1989. He has actively participated in the Clean Clothes Consultation and the Clean Clothes Platform since they were launched.

From 1995 he was also closely involved in setting up the Fair Wear Foundation (FWF).
Hester Klute
Board member since December 2009, expiry of current term of office: December 2021.
Position: secretary and human resource adviser.

After having worked in public relations, marketing and communication, coordination and business management in the cultural sector for a decade, Hester Klute took up a new position at Ideëel Organiseren, an event management agency, in 1999. She subsequently joined the VARA Broadcasting Association where she was responsible for membership recruitment and retention as well as marketing communication for RTVI programmes. She currently works as a fundraiser for Liliane Fonds.

Just van der Hoeven
Board member since March 2011, expiry of current term of office: March 2022.
Position: general member of the Board and legal affairs adviser.

After having worked as a project team member for Nederland Bekent Kleur, Amsterdam Anders/De Groenen and after a brief stint at the Clean Clothes Campaign (Play Fair 2002 FIFA World Cup), Just van der Hoeven joined the Equal Treatment Commission in the role of legal policy adviser. He subsequently worked for the Legislation Advisory Department of the Netherlands Council of State as parliamentary draftsman. He currently works in the Private Law sector of the Legislation and Legal Affairs Department at the Ministry of Justice and Security. Board membership offers him an opportunity, alongside legislation, to devote efforts towards achieving more tangible fair trade objectives.

Sjef Stoop
Board member since January 2013, expiry of current term of office: January 2022.
Position: treasurer.

Sjef Stoop began working for SOMO, the Centre for Research on Multinational Corporations in 1990. In 2000 he moved to FNV Formaat to take on the role of trainer/adviser for European Works Councils. From 2003-2007 he worked as International Verification Coordinator for the Fair Wear Foundation. In 2007 he returned to FNV Formaat where he also initiated projects themed around Corporate Social Responsibility. Moreover he still feels strongly committed to initiatives aimed at improving the position of garment workers.

Nina Ascoly
Board member since September 2013, expiry of current term of office: September 2019.
Position: general member of the Board and campaign adviser.

Nina Ascoly worked for the Clean Clothes Campaign for 12 years (1998-2010). Her wide-ranging activities include developing the international network. In the first few years she was mainly involved in setting up and expanding the Urgent Appeal Network. She has been working for Friends of the Earth International as international programmes facilitator since 2010. In that capacity she contributes to the development of international strategies and campaigns for ecologically sustainable and just alternatives to the current global neoliberal model.
Financial Statements

Budget versus actual variance analysis

The difference between the 2018 budget and the actual spendings is explained as following. Throughout the year more grants were acquired, which primarily contributed to building capacities within the CCC network for advocacy and campaigning, and to increasing the coordination between the CCC network and key labour rights (campaign) organisations to effectively defend the right to organise, a fundamental condition for ensuring improvements in labour conditions and to instigating broader social change. The total amount of spending on direct campaign costs is therefore almost 15% higher than foreseen. While the increased spending on activities was covered by this larger range of donors, with a slight change in allocation from government grants to grants from other non-profit organisations, increased fundraising costs and non-collectible dues partners explain the negative result of 12,994 Euros.

Financial position

CCC is a member of the Fair Green and Global Alliance. This alliance, which consists of five more organisations (SOMO, TNI, Both Ends, Milieudefensie and Action Aid) has a strategic partnership with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs concerning lobby and advocacy for the period 2016 - 2020. This partnership remains CCC’s main source of funding.

At the same time, 2018 saw a more diversified donor landscape for the organisation, which will hopefully stand us in good stead for the coming years. The NoVo Foundation-funded, three-year programme, under which CCC and some of its allies will expand their work on living wages, worker safety and urgent appeals, got started. Two two-year programmes, focused on strategic casework and support for our Southern partners (funded by the Open Society Foundation), and building women leadership with an eye to our Tokyo 2020 Olympics campaign (funded by a US-based philanthropic fund) also got under way, as well as our collaboration with Mama Cash on a project advancing female empowerment in the garment industry.

In addition, we attracted two sizeable anonymous donations from the same donor, which is a testament to the appreciation for the importance of our work. The Anonymous Donor is known by the organisation, but the donor required to be referred to as Anonymous Donor as a condition for receiving the grant. The grant is unrestricted and is to be used to accomplish the objectives of the organisation. The donor does not represent corporate interests in the garment industry. And finally, CCC and a number of partners successfully applied for a European Commission grant on transparency and living wages.

SKC / CCC's equity as of 31 December 2018 amounted to € 526,396. The organisation posted a result of minus € 12,994 for 2018. The result will be deducted from equity/earmarked reserves.

Fund-raising costs amounted to € 63,841 in 2018 and mainly concern staff costs. SKC/CCC acquires funds almost entirely by applying for grants rather than relying, for instance, on the generosity of the Dutch public.

Investment policy

SKC/CCC holds no shares or bonds. Any funds not required immediately are credited to the organisation's savings account. SKC/CCC has expressly chosen to take out a savings account with ASN Bank since the bank’s objectives are in line with the organisation’s vision.

On 1 January 2013 the “Wet normering bezoldiging topfunctionarissen publieke en semipublieke sector (WNT)” Act came into force. From 1 January 2016 this law applies to the Stichting Schone Kleren Kampagne / Clean Clothes Campaign (SKC/CCC). The report below is prepared in line with the applicable regulation for SKC/CCC in 2018.

The maximum remuneration according to the WNT for SKC/CCC in 2018 is €189,000. The reported maximum amount per person is calculated based on the full-time equivalent in the labor agreement of the person concerned. The full-time equivalent can never exceed 1.0. For members of the Board, a maximum of 15% (chairman) or 10% (other members) of the maximum amount for executives applies.

Remuneration executives (“leidinggevende topfunctionarissen”)

Stichting Schone Kleren Campagne / Clean Clothes Campaign is a flat organisation with self-steering teams. The organisation does not have a director or management as commonly understood being the persons having executive power within the organisation. However, since end 2017 there are three employees part of the Cross Team Body, who are accountable for the organisation's core operations (in particular finance, HR, fundraising and grant management) and have the authorisation to enter into commitments on behalf of the organisation. Still, all employees earn the same salary regardless of their function, job title or seniority. This salary is well below the allowed maximum remuneration. In the below table an overview is given of the remuneration of the members of the Cross-Team Body.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

To: the Board of Stichting Schone Kleren Kampagne/Clean Clothes Campaign in Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

A. Report on the audit of the financial statements 2018 included in the annual report

Our opinion
We have audited the financial statements 2018 of Stichting Schone Kleren Kampagne/Clean Clothes Campaign based in Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

In our opinion the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of Stichting Schone Kleren Kampagne/Clean Clothes Campaign as at 31 December 2018 and of its result for 2018 in accordance with the Guidelines for annual reporting C1 “Small not-for-profit organisations” of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board and the Policy rules implementation of the Standards for Remuneration Act (WNT).

The financial statements comprise:
1. the balance sheet as at 31 December 2018;
4. the statement of income and expenditure for 2018; and
5. the notes comprising a summary of the accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Basis for our opinion
We conducted our audit in accordance with Dutch law, including the Dutch Standards on Auditing as well as the Policy rules implementation WNT, including the Audit Protocol WNT. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the ‘Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements’ section of our report.

We are independent of Stichting Schone Kleren Kampagne/Clean Clothes Campaign in accordance with the Verordening inzake de onafhankelijkheid van accountants bij assurance-opdrachten (VIQ, Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, a regulation with respect to independence) and other relevant independence regulations in the Netherlands. Furthermore, we have complied with the Verordening gedrags- en beroepsregels accountants (VGBA, Dutch Code of Ethics).

We believe the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
Compliance with rule against overlapping pursuant to the WNT not audited
In accordance with the Audit Protocol under the Standards for Remuneration Act ("WNT"), we have not audited the rule against overlapping as referred to in Section 1.6a of the WNT and Section 5(1)(j) of the WNT Implementing Regulations. This means that we have not audited whether an executive senior official exceeds the norm as a result of any positions as executive senior official at other institutions subject to the WNT, and whether the explanation required in this context is correct and complete.

B. Report on the other information included in the annual report
In addition to the financial statements and our auditor’s report thereon, the annual report contains other information that consists of the board’s report.

Based on the following procedures performed, we conclude that the other information is consistent with the financial statements and does not contain material misstatements.

We have read the other information. Based on our knowledge and understanding obtained through our audit of the financial statements or otherwise, we have considered whether the other information contains material misstatements.

By performing these procedures, we comply with the requirements of the Dutch Standard 720. The scope of the procedures performed is substantially less than the scope of those performed in our audit of the financial statements. Management is responsible for the preparation of the other information, including the management board’s report, in accordance with the Guidelines for annual reporting C1 “Small not-for-profit organisations” of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board.

C. Description of responsibilities regarding the financial statements

Responsibilities of the Board for the financial statements
The Board is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements, in accordance with the Guidelines for annual reporting C1 “Small not-for-profit organisations” of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board and the Policy rules implementation of the Public and Semi-public Sector Senior Officials (Standard Remuneration) Act (WNT). Furthermore, the Board is responsible for such internal control as the Board determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

As part of the preparation of the financial statements, the Board is responsible for assessing the foundation’s ability to continue as a going concern. Based on the financial reporting framework mentioned, the Board should prepare the financial statements using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the foundation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The board should disclose events and circumstances that may cast significant doubt on the foundation’s ability to continue as a going concern in the financial statements.
Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements
Our objective is to plan and perform the audit assignment in a manner that allows us to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence for our opinion.

Our audit has been performed with a high, but not absolute, level of assurance, which means we may not detect all material errors and fraud during our audit.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. The materiality affects the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and the evaluation of the effect of identified misstatements on our opinion.

We have exercised professional judgement and have maintained professional skepticism throughout the audit, in accordance with Dutch Standards on Auditing, as well as the Policy rules implementation WNT, including the Audit Protocol WNT, ethical requirements and independence requirements. Our audit included e.g.:

- identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, designing and performing audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtaining audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtaining an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the foundation’s internal control;
- evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board;
- concluding on the appropriateness of management’s use of the going concern basis of accounting, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the foundation’s ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor’s report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor’s report. However, future events or conditions may cause a foundation to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluating the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures; and
- evaluating whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant findings in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We believe the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
Compliance with rule against overlapping pursuant to the WNT not audited
In accordance with the Audit Protocol under the Standards for Remuneration Act ("WNT"), we have not audited the rule against overlapping as referred to in Section 1.6a of the WNT and Section 5(1)(j) of the WNT Implementing Regulations. This means that we have not audited whether an executive senior official exceeds the norm as a result of any positions as executive senior official at other institutions subject to the WNT, and whether the explanation required in this context is correct and complete.

By performing these procedures, we comply with the requirements of the Dutch Standard 720. The scope of the procedures performed is substantially less than the scope of those performed in our audit of the financial statements. Management is responsible for the preparation of the other information, including the management board’s report, in accordance with the Guidelines for annual reporting C1 “Small not-for-profit organisations” of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board.

C. Description of responsibilities regarding the financial statements

Responsibilities of the Board for the financial statements
The Board is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements, in accordance with the Guidelines for annual reporting C1 “Small not-for-profit organisations” of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board and the Policy rules implementation of the Public and Semi-public Sector Senior Officials (Standard Remuneration) Act (WNT). Furthermore, the Board is responsible for such internal control as the Board determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

As part of the preparation of the financial statements, the Board is responsible for assessing the foundation’s ability to continue as a going concern. Based on the financial reporting framework mentioned, the Board should prepare the financial statements using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the foundation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The board should disclose events and circumstances that may cast significant doubt on the foundation’s ability to continue as a going concern in the financial statements.
Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objective is to plan and perform the audit assignment in a manner that allows us to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence for our opinion.

Our audit has been performed with a high, but not absolute, level of assurance, which means we may not detect all material errors and fraud during our audit.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. The materiality affects the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and the evaluation of the effect of identified misstatements on our opinion.

We have exercised professional judgement and have maintained professional skepticism throughout the audit, in accordance with Dutch Standards on Auditing, as well as the Policy rules implementation WNT, including the Audit Protocol WNT, ethical requirements and independence requirements. Our audit included e.g.:

- identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, designing and performing audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtaining audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtaining an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the foundation’s internal control;
- evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board;
- concluding on the appropriateness of management’s use of the going concern basis of accounting, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the foundation’s ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor’s report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor’s report. However, future events or conditions may cause a foundation to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluating the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures; and
- evaluating whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant findings in internal control that we identify during our audit.
