The parties

[Names of all parties/representatives to be listed here]

agree to the following matters:

Freedom of Association Protocol

Preamble

The Parties recognise and affirm a joint commitment to uphold the right to freedom of association as part of the body of universal human rights.

The parties recognise the existence of issues and problems in the implementation of freedom of association for workers in Indonesia which impact upon workers’ other rights.

The Parties recognise and are aware that as a result of the violations and problems that arise in the implementation of freedom of association, it is not uncommon for union representatives and members to experience victimisation.

The Parties are aware that production processes have continually developed and have become part of global production chains involving workers and companies in numerous different nations.

The Parties recognise the need for fair rules of play in conducting business, especially regarding implementation of the right to freedom of association. For that reason, it is very important that there is joint understanding and commitment between workers and companies regarding the implementation of freedom of association within industrial relations.

The Parties acknowledge that a commitment to uphold the right to freedom of association requires transparency and accountability between workers, suppliers and brands, which will in the long run be beneficial to all parties.

The Parties agree to uphold the right to freedom of association in accordance with the operation of Indonesian laws in the region where the company operates, as well as international laws.

To this end, the Parties agree as follows:
CHAPTER I

   d. Unions may display their organisation’s flag at the same level with the national flag, the company flag and the workplace health and safety flag.

e. Unions may display a union signboard around the location of the union secretariat or in another place provided for such purposes within the company’s premises, such as beside the gates or an alternative strategic and appropriate position where it is easily visible to others.

f. Unions shall be given freedom to receive visitors from union organisations outside the company who are guests of the union in accordance with the regulations in effect within the factory.

g. The company must assist in deducting union fees from the wages of union members every month and within a period of time jointly agreed upon or at the latest within 10 work days the amount must be given to the relevant union leader depending on the administration processes within the company.

h. Wage deductions as intended in subsection (g) are to be implemented upon receipt of a letter of authorisation from the union member. The letter of authorisation does not need to be officially stamped.

a. Suppliers are obliged to provide a space or room that is appropriate, hygienic and strategic within the company premises to be used as a union secretariat together with furnishings to support the union’s activities, including two sets of desks and desk chairs, filing cabinets or cupboards and a table and chairs for guests.

b. In the case that the company is limited in its ability to provide for the above facilities and fittings, then the company is obligated to make a refurbishment plan with the union’s agreement within a timeframe of 6 months.

(3) Suppliers have the obligation to support and facilitate union activities during working hours including:

a. Routine scheduled meetings, such as meetings between union representatives, as well as between union representatives and members.

b. Ad hoc meetings as may be required, both between union representatives and between union representatives and members, providing three days’ prior notice to the company.

c. Union educational activities, both scheduled and unscheduled, providing three days’ prior notice to the company.

(4) Brands and Suppliers have the obligation to support and facilitate union activities outside the company premises, including:

a. Attendance at both routine and occasional discussions and meetings, with organisational officials, both at company level or affiliates, with three days’ prior notice.

b. Attendance at seminars or education from union organisations, affiliates, other connected organisations, and/or government agencies.

Article 6

(1) The parties have the obligation to produce a Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) within a time frame of not more than six months after the formation of a union in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

(2) In negotiating a CBA, Unions and Companies shall adhere to the following:
a. Companies shall not reject an invitation from unions to negotiate to produce or renew an agreement.
b. Companies shall not undertake any form of intimidation against the union delegates in the CBA negotiating team.
c. During CBA negotiations, union delegates in the negotiation team are to be relieved of their daily work load in accordance with a jointly agreed upon schedule.
d. During CBA negotiations, union delegates in the negotiating team are to be given freedom to carry out surveys so as to gather data to support the negotiations.
e. The negotiating team must be given access to information concerning company conditions so as to obtain supportive data, as far as that access does not breach confidentiality provisions as provided by law or by contract with a third party.

CHAPTER III
FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

Article 7

(1) Suppliers are forbidden to impede in any way the distribution of information by unions.
(2) The distribution of information mentioned in section (1) is to be carried out, inter alia, as follows:
   a. Unions can freely attach information to public notice boards. Prior permission from the company is not required but copies of the information may be provided.
   b. Information distributed must not contravene applicable regulations or laws.
(3) a. Suppliers have an obligation to provide announcement boards specifically for union information, with a minimum of one board situated in a strategic public space, such as the canteen, the employee rest area or another location used by the company to place announcements or information for employees. If there is more than one union, then arrangements should be made between those unions.
   b. If there is a greater need for announcement boards (there is a large number of employees and / or the location is large), then the union is permitted to use existing information board facilities that are specifically for employees following the stipulations contained in Section 2(a) and 2(b) above and with agreement between other unions (where there is more than one union).

CHAPTER IV
SUPERVISION, DISPUTE RESOLUTION AND SANCTIONS

Article 8

(1) To supervise implementation of this FOA Protocol, the parties are obligated to form an FOA Protocol Supervision and Dispute Settlement Committee no later than 90 working days after the signing of this Protocol.

(2) FOA Protocol Supervision and Dispute Settlement Committees will be established at company and national levels.

(3) The FOA Protocol Supervision and Dispute Settlement Committees at the company level will have members from company level unions and company management.

(4) The FOA Protocol Supervision and Dispute Settlement Committee at the national level will have members from national level unions, Non-Government Organisations, Brands and Suppliers.

(5) The Standard Operational Procedures of the FOA Protocol Supervision and Dispute Settlement Committee will be determined within 90 working days after the formation of the Committee as intended in section (1).

Article 9

Sanctions

(1) Violations of the determinations in this protocol constitute actions that infringe freedom of association and redress may be sought in accordance with legislation, Codes of Conduct and other international regulations.

(2) Efforts should be made to resolve violations via consensus building deliberations. If these deliberations do not reach a consensus then the dispute should be resolved with reference to legal regulations. If a dispute concerning an infringement cannot be resolved via such negotiations, then the matter should be referred to a court of law.

CHAPTER V

ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS, CONCLUSION AND AMENDMENTS

Article 10

Language

1. The language used in this Protocol is Bahasa Indonesia.

2. In the case that a problem arises in the interpretation of a Protocol that has been translated into another language, then the interpretation should refer to the Protocol in Bahasa Indonesia.

Article 11

Amendments of Regulations

In the instance where freedom of association conditions in a company are better than the provisions set out in this protocol, then those pre-existing provisions continue to operate.

Article 12

Concluding Determinations
1. This Protocol shall be effective from the signing thereof by the Parties.

2. This Protocol is open for signature by other parties that are prepared to adopt the Protocol provisions.

3. The procedure to become a signatory as intended in section (2) is by making a written statement which is presented to the National Level FOA Protocol Supervision and Dispute Settlement Committee.

4. Other matters which are yet to be agreed upon in the first stage of negotiations by the FOA Committee, will be revisited and renegotiated in the second stage of negotiations 12 months after the FOA Protocol takes effect.

NOTES:

1. Article 1 clarification: Considering the large number of suppliers, a Letter of Acknowledgement will be made as an appendix to be signed by suppliers who adopt this FOA Protocol.

2. Article 4 section 5 (c) clarification: Unions are required to submit the schedule of union official duty officers (based on a rotation system) to the company management before implementation so that management can inform the relevant departments.

3. Article 4 Section 7 clarification: provided this does not interfere with production processes in terms of avoiding work position vacancies.

4. Article 4 Section 10 clarification: Beyond the context of carrying out organisation activities under freedom of association, union representatives may still be subject to disciplinary actions if they violate company regulations or laws.

5. Article 5 section 1 (a): Routine union meeting schedules are submitted to suppliers.

6. The clarification regarding the implementation of Article 4 section 5 (c) refers to the implementation of Article 5 sections (3)(b) and (c) and section 4(a) and (b).

7. Article 5 subsection (g): In accordance with Ministerial Declaration 184 2004 or applicable regulations.

8. Article 7 section 2 (e): Unions can access yearly production numbers from the company, based on principles of transparency and confidentiality.

9. Article 9: Matters relating to sanctions and decision making will be discussed by the FOA Protocol Implementation Supervisory Committee.

10. Section 3 (b) in Article 7 does not include notice boards that have the specific production functions or other specialised functions within the company (for instance: notice boards for Lean Production, Health and Safety, etc.)
